

Weekly NEWSLETTER

Message from the Principal

It is another big sporting weekend in our Country. With Bafana Bafana overpowering Morocco in the round of last 16 (AFCON) we look forward to another Quarter-Final for our National teams. Beating Morocco is no small feat as their team is filled with stars. It is wonderful to see some coordinated teamwork and leadership from Hugo Broos. We are fully behind our boys! We are a sport-loving nation and our children need local heroes that are relatable. So my message to the team is to play for the flag on the left of your Jersey and most importantly play with Pride!

Academic Update

We take pride in being part of an exclusive group of schools that includes textbooks and stationery items as part of our offering. We trust that all children have taken due diligence in appropriately covering their textbooks and stationery items.

This weekend!

Get ready to rev those engines! Ridgeway Races is coming up this Saturday, and we're betting you'll be joining us bright and early on the Preparatory Campus. We're thrilled to say that our littlest learners, the ECD kiddos, will also be joining in on the fun, getting their first taste of the "competitive" world of sports. So, let's all cheer them on and get ready for a morning of high-octane excitement!

School tours / Ecko gecko week

Our Yearly Ecko Gecko trips and Tour letters have gone out and I am confident that you have sent through your reply slips. These will help us with all the logistical arrangements that are made to ensure a successful round of Tours for our children. The selected venues will provide the ideal platform for our children to experience the educational and environmental benefit from these tours.

Leadership development

The Leadership (Toni Cooper and Mikael Chakwizira) had an interesting week as they decided to beautify our school a little more by painting one of our flower beds. "We look forward to making our mark in the school and cant wait to introduce more colour."

It is always a pleasure dealing with our leaders and sharing a laugh as we discuss how we can set the example during our interactions with the Junior learners who look up to them.

UPCOMING EVENTS!

The Ridgeway Races are scheduled to occur this Saturday. The learners are expected to arrive at 07:15 and the program will commence at 07:30. Learners are encouraged to bring money as there will be stalls available. Supporters are kindly requested to bring their own chairs and gazebos. Parents may pick up their children at 12:00.

Need more information?

www.ridgewaycollege.co.za

Follow us on

